

The Art Gallery – being its own page and navigation subject – content section will be sectioned off into Character/Story Art, Fun/Random Doodles – that still relate to the content of the website – and a link to my DeviantArt page. For now, I plan on having the Character/Story Art and Fun/Random Doodles being their own pages, but not a part of the navigation. The DeviantArt link is meant to take them to my DA profile page, where I will have art from the comic website, as well as art that has nothing to do with the web comic.
